Talk about why you chose it, maybe read an excerpt, give any relevant background. We can discuss and reminisce. We'll organise the second topic at the end of the first week. Possible themes could include – poems, authors, song lyrics, books turned into films, love stories, stories of revenge, ideas that changed the world, historical interest – broad themes, open to your interpretation. No need for us to all read the same book, we'll work on the same theme instead.
